DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 40-43, 50-54, 67, and 68 are allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 55, 57, 60, 66, 70, 71 and 72 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Miskinyar (US 4,894,054).

Miskinyar teaches an injector device with an infusion set having a housing (74) and a hollow cannula (22), a molded device housing (10), a cover (38), a plunger (18), a drive (70), a lock (56), and the device housing being manually deformable (button 33) to release the plunger. See Figs 1 and 2. As to claim 60, see cover 62 with hollow 60.

4. Claims 55-57, 60-64, 66, and 69-72 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Safabash et al (US 6,293,925).

Safabash teaches an injector device with an infusion set having a housing (400) and a cannula (402) with tubing (412); a device housing (500), a cover (414), a plunger (504), a spring drive (507), lock (552), and manually deformable housing (508, 510, 512) to release the plunger. See Figs 35-40g.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 58 and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Safabash as applied to claims above, and further in view of Teeple, Jr (US 5,807,316).

Safabash does not teach indicia relating to the shelf life of the device on the cover. As to claim 59, see Figs 40a-40d. Teeple teaches that it is known in the art to encode the shelf life of a device in a bar code on the device (Col 18 line 25).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the indicia of Teeple to avoid providing an expired device to the patient.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not persuasive. The button of Miskinyar is considered part of the housing because it covers the top of the device. As to claim 66, any part is removable. Applicant does not claim that the infusion set is removable from the injector device while the cannula remains in the skin as argued. As to Safabash, cover 414 clearly covers the entire needle, see Fig 40b, and is suitable for sterilization. Again, the button is still considered part of the housing because it covers the top of the device. The rejections are maintained.

Conclusion

1. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
